

2011-2012

Grant and Fellowship Program

The Haynes Foundation has been a force for change in Los Angeles for over eight decades, and from its beginnings has focused attention on issues of Los Angeles government and civic causes. The Foundation's founders, John Randolph and Dora Haynes, were passionate advocates of involved citizenship who believed that through the social sciences the Foundation not only could identify critical social and political problems in Los Angeles but also offer solutions to them. Hundreds of research projects focusing on Los Angeles issues have been funded since the Foundation's establishment in 1926, many of which have borne the fruit of real improvements for ordinary citizens. Awards are made only to organizations within the United States and whose endeavors are focused in or on Los Angeles. Reports are required at the end of the grant/fellowship period. Grants and fellowships are made only to qualified non-profit organizations, never to individuals. Before contacting the Foundation regarding funding, please go to our web site at www.haynesfoundation.org and read our How to Apply and Program sections carefully.

Funds are restricted to:

- Original social science research into policy issues of the Los Angeles Region (comprised of the counties of Los Angeles, Ventura, San Fernando, Riverside, and Orange);
- Research into the history of Southern California;
- Archival and cataloging projects important to Los Angeles;
- Faculty Fellowships for teaching faculty at universities and four-year colleges in the five-county Los Angeles Region;
- Dissertation Fellowships for Ph.D. candidates at research universities in the five-county Los Angeles Region. This program is named in memory of Haynes Lindley, a Foundation Trustee from 1978-2011 and President from 1987-1997.

Grants

Major Research Grants

The Foundation seeks applications and awards grants and fellowships for research on major economic, social and political problems of the Los Angeles Region. Preference is given to applied studies which, in addition to adding significantly to knowledge and understanding of issues, are judged to show promise of influencing policies and practices addressing these issues. The research project's potential for publication and its use by the community are also taken into account. The Foundation is willing to consider subsequent requests for support in disseminating the results of the studies it funds. Major research projects concerning the history of Southern California will also be considered.

Deadlines:

November 9, 2011	August 22, 2012
March 7, 2012	November 8, 2012
May 23, 2012

Archival Grants

A modest portion of the Foundation's annual research budget is reserved to support archival and cataloging projects at libraries and other local institutions in Los Angeles. The relevance and significance of the materials to Southern California and for public policy, along with their fragility, rarity and completeness are taken into account in selecting these projects for award.

Deadline: January 12, 2012

Fellowships

Faculty Fellowships

(8 awards available @ $12,000 each)

Faculty Fellowships are awarded by the Foundation on an annual basis to social science faculty members teaching at any university or four-year college in the Los Angeles Region. The fellowships are competitive and favor is given to proposals which are well-conceived, imaginative, and break new ground on economic, social and political problems. The Foundation's interest is in social science research which has implication for influencing policy and action in the Los Angeles region, but research projects concerning the history of Southern California will also be considered. The year-long fellowships are to be used in support of faculty research time and expenses.

Deadlines:

December 15, 2011 December 13, 2012

Haynes Lindley Doctoral Dissertation Fellowships

(8 awards available @ $20,000 each)

Doctoral Dissertation Fellowships are competitively awarded on an annual basis to Ph. D. candidates enrolled at institutions awarding the Ph.D. degree in the social sciences in the Los Angeles Region (i.e., the California Institute of Technology, the Claremont Graduate University, the University of California, Los Angeles, the University of California, Irvine, the University of California, Riverside, and the University of Southern California). Applicants must have had their dissertation proposals accepted and be working with their faculty advisors. Proposals should address economic, social, policy or political problems of the Los Angeles area.

Deadline: February 28, 2012

The John Randolph Haynes and Dora
HAYNES
FOUNDATION

Promoting the Well-Being of Mankind

Highlights of the Application Process

Please visit "How to Apply" at www.HaynesFoundation.org for detailed information on the application procedures.

Archival and Research Grants

- Cover letter from the institution, signed by an administrative officer.
- A statement of purpose for which the funds will be used.
- Detailed budget and time-line.
- Names and qualifications of the personnel involved (1-2 page personal resumes are sufficient).
- Copies of the institution's exemption letters from the Internal Revenue Service and the California Franchise Tax Board.
- Double spaced in 12 point type face preferred but not required.
- Print double sided with three-hole punch.

Faculty Fellowships

- Two page proposal stating the research problem or project goals, the methods to be used, and the way the grant money will be spent.
- A two-page condensed personal resume.
- Double spaced in 12 point type face.
- Each proposal should be accompanied by written indication of institutional support from the academic dean or other appropriate academic administrator designated by the college or university.

Haynes Lindley Doctoral Dissertation Fellowships

- Six page proposal stating the research project, project goals and methods to be used.
- Double spaced in 12 point type face.
- One page bibliography listing key sources of direct relevance to the dissertation topic.
- A two-page condensed personal resume.
- Two letters of recommendation; one must be from the applicant's faculty advisor with an estimation of the completion date. The faculty advisor's letter will be considered confirmation of institutional support for the proposal.

The Haynes Foundation
888 West Sixth Street, Suite 1150
Los Angeles, CA 90017-2737

www.haynesfoundation.org
info@haynesfoundation.org